The document appears to be a page from a book discussing the history of the Piramal Group, with a focus on past events and financial statements. Here is a transcription of the text:

"As the founder of the Piramal Group, Mr. Krishna Prakash Piramal, has led the company through various challenges and triumphs, his leadership has been instrumental in shaping the company's growth. In 2000, Piramal completed its acquisition of the leading Indian pharmaceutical company, Ranbaxy Laboratories, for $1.7 billion, a landmark deal that marked the beginning of Piramal's journey into the global pharmaceutical industry. Over the years, Piramal has diversified its business portfolio to include real estate, financial services, and healthcare, cementing its position as a diversified conglomerate with a strong presence in the Indian market.

In 2010, Piramal further strengthened its position in the real estate sector by acquiring 100% stake in Mahindra & Mahindra Land Development Ltd. for $550 million. This acquisition allowed Piramal to tap into the rapidly growing real estate market in India, expanding its portfolio to include residential, commercial, and mixed-use projects.

In addition to its strong presence in India, Piramal has also ventured into the international market, with investments in countries such as the United States and the United Kingdom. In 2012, Piramal acquired 75% stake in the UK-based pharmaceutical company, and in 2015, it acquired the US-based medical tech company, to further diversify its business portfolio.

Piramal's strategic acquisitions and investments have been instrumental in driving the company's growth and cementing its position as a leading player in the Indian and global markets. Under Mr. Piramal's leadership, Piramal has continued to diversify its operations and invest in emerging sectors, positioning itself for future growth and success.
